Los Angeles Earthquake '94

The January 17, 1994 Northridge Earthquake did more than just shake up a few Southern California Flyball teams. Three teams; West Valley Dogsports, Rocket Paws and Quantum Leap are based just a few miles from the epicenter of the quake. Miraculously, there were no serious injuries to either human or dog team members, and nearly all were racing as soon as March 5-6 in Santa Barbara.

The earthquake occurred pre-dawn with a violent lifting and dropping motion. The sounds of shattering glass, screams from the darkness of the night, dishes being thrown from the cabinets and crashing to the floor. Many were thrown from their beds, literally, onto the floor. Then silence and darkness. Power and phone lines were severed. Water mains were spewing geysers. Gas mains were exploding. But, the dogs were okay. With the light of the day came the horrible realization of what had taken place. Days without power, water, and serviceable grocery stores. The people who had lived through this will tell you it was a nightmare.

Two and a half months later, some team members are rebuilding their homes. Fallen chimneys seem to have been one of the most common problems caused by the quake. Joanne Boyland (with Splash - Border Collie) of Quantum Leap had to vacate her home, it was declared unsafe, and she is currently residing with fellow Quantum Leap team member Doug (with Meg - Border Collie) temporarily until her home is once again safe to live in, which may not be for several months.

Fortunately, there were no major physical harm done to any NAFA team members that we know of but the psychological trauma that everyone, including the dogs, sustained may remain with them for the rest of their lives.

Betsy and Henry Ortiz (With Alex - Aussie and Ivy - Sheltie) of Rocket Paws had severe damage with their fireplace coming down into their living room. Thank goodness the dogs were in bed with them that morning.

Joanne Boyland (with Splash - Border Collie) of Quantum Leap had to vacate her home, it was declared unsafe, and she is currently residing with fellow Quantum Leap team member Doug (with Meg - Border Collie) temporarily until her home is once again safe to live in, which may not be for several months.

The following are some of the questions we would like you to answer:

How many tournaments should it take to obtain an FD title? FDX? FDCh?

Should small dogs, long-backed dogs, specific breeds or veterans have a different point scale for titles?

Should there be honorary titles for a retiring dog (maybe the dog is 10 points away from an FDCh)?

Should a 25 point run mean a dog raced with no errors, was very fast, or a combination of the two? Or should a 25 point run signify something else?

With several teams consistently racing at 20 seconds or less, should the 24 second
NEW HEAD JUDGE QUALIFICATIONS

As of January 1, 1994, NAFA has imposed a ruling that Flyball tournaments will not be sanctioned without a NAFA approved Head Judge. Along with this rule change came new guidelines on qualifications for approval.

Effective January 1, 1994, anyone who desires approval for Head Judge must apprentice a tournament under a Head Judge that has gained permanent status from NAFA. Under apprenticeship, the Head Judge will observe the apprentice and correct errors about judging that the apprentice may have. The Head Judge will also give instructions and guidance as deemed appropriate.

The Head Judge then sends a completed Apprentice Form to Dave Samuels, who is the head of the Judges and Guidelines committee, with recommendations for, or against, approval. With this recommendation, Dave Samuels decides if the applicant will be approved to become NAFA Head Judge under probation.

If the applicant becomes successful in becoming a NAFA approved Head Judge under probation, the applicant must judge 3 additional tournaments in this probationary status. Even with a probationary status, the applicant is still considered an approved NAFA Head Judge thus the tournament will still be fully sanctioned under the new guidelines requiring NAFA approved Head Judges.

After successful completing of 3 tournaments under probationary status, the applicant shall submit an application for approval to permanent status to Dave Samuels. Dave will review the application and conduct interviews as required to key personnel such as the tournament director and the Head Judge that the applicant apprenticed under. Dave may also conduct an interview with the applicant to insure that the applicant is thoroughly familiar with all NAFA rules and policies.

Dave would then submit the applicant to the Board of Directors with his recommendation of approval or disapproval. The Board of Directors will make further actions to determine if the applicant should be granted permanent status as a NAFA approved Head Judge.

After the completion of this process, NAFA will inform the applicant of his or her status as a Head Judge. If successful, the applicant will have the rights and privileges as Head Judge until the applicant resigns or the Board of Directors revokes his or her status.

Further questions concerning procedures on becoming a NAFA approved head judge may be forwarded to:

From the Executive Director...

Welcome! Feedback has been very positive thus far on the NAFA NEWS format and features. Thanks to everyone - we hope we can improve the sport of Flyball through active communication. We encourage your letters, comments, and suggestions.

It’s been a very busy month! Re-assigning Regional Directors (See story in this issue), obtaining a shipping crate and contract for our new lights, and the relocation from Boston, MA to Los Angeles, CA of both myself and Andrew (NAFA NEWS Editor) has certainly made this a banner month.

The big story is the LIGHTS! NAFA has a crate (thanks to Clyde Moore) and a shipping arrangement (thanks to Bob Murray) and it seems that everything will be ready for all teams to use the lights.

One additional note about the use of the lights in tournaments. Even though the accuracy in the timing has increased, the outcome of races will continue to be determined visually by the Head Judge and the Line Judges.

Until next month, stay in your lane and hold the ball tight.

Kim Eashoo

for a 25 point run be changed to something such as 21 seconds?

Should there be different point scales for each division? Perhaps the average time for a tournament could indicate which scale was used. For example, a team averaging 26 seconds in a tournament could have a 25 point heat with a 24 second run, whereas a team with an average of 30 seconds, would have a 25 point heat with a 28 second run.

Your opinions count and will greatly help NAFA serve all members of the Flyball community. Please take a little time to answer some or all of these questions, and even add a few comments of your own. Send all answers and comments to:

REGIONAL DIRECTOR REASSIGNMENTS

NAFA Executive Director, Kim Eashoo, evaluated and reassigned Regional Directors in many locations. Three Regional Directors resigned their positions: Sharon Anderson, MN; Melody Dagg, CA; and Neal Jennings, AZ & NM. Each of these Regional Directors has served for years and will be sorely missed. Joe Goetz, NAFA approved judge, will succeed Sharon Anderson in Minnesota, and has also been assigned the state of Wisconsin and Nebraska. Bruce Brackman, team captain for the Santa Barbara Flyers will replace Melody Dagg in California. Katy Kaylor, team captain of Touch 'n Go in Las Vegas, Nevada will be Regional Director for Nevada and Arizona.

In order to better service certain areas, other changes have been made. Rick Palytyk, Regional Director in British Columbia, will assume the state of Washington. Bob Davidson, Regional Director of Ontario, will also be responsible for New York. Alan Weiner, Regional Director of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas will now work to promote Flyball in Louisiana and Oklahoma/Kansas will be dropped until teams are formed there.

It is intended that the Regional Directors will foster growth and development in their assigned areas. Please welcome our new Regional Directors and thanks to our past Regional Directors for a job well done.

The following is the most current Regional Director list;
